1 NOTICE OF JOINT MOTION AND MOTION

2 TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

3 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT on October 6, 2015, in Courtroom 2 on the 4th Floor, 1301
4 Clay Street, Oakland, California, Plaintiffs and Defendants will jointly move for an order 5 providing that the Court: (1) conditionally certify under Rules 23(a) and (b)(2) of the Federal 6 Rules of Civil Procedure a Supplemental Settlement Class defined to include inmates who have 7 now, or will have in the future, been housed by Defendants at Pelican Bay State Prison's 8 Security Housing Unit (SHU) for ten or more years and who then were transferred to another 9 CDCR SHU facility in connection with CDCR's Step Down Program; (2) preliminarily approve 10 the Settlement Agreement reached by the parties that, if ultimately approved by the Court, will 11 settle all claims for relief asserted in Plaintiffs' Second Amended Complaint and Supplemental 12 Complaint; (3) approve the proposed notice to be distributed to the classes under Rule 23(c)(2) 13 and (e)(1); (4) schedule a fairness hearing for final approval of the parties' Settlement 14 Agreement; and (5) stay all proceedings pending resolution of the fairness hearing.

15 This joint motion is based on this notice, the accompanying Joint Memorandum of Points and 16 Authorities, the Declaration of Jules Lobel, and all documents and arguments submitted in 17 support thereof. Rule 23 does not require a hearing on a motion seeking preliminary approval 18 of a class action settlement, and the parties agree to forego the hearing, noticed for October 6, 19 2015, unless the Court concludes that a hearing is necessary.

21 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

22 I. INTRODUCTION

23 This class action concerns the California Department of Corrections and 24 Rehabilitation's (CDCR) gang management policies and practices and its use of segregated 25 housing, including at Pelican Bay's SHU. In particular, the case alleges that confinement for 26 ten continuous years or more at Pelican Bay SHU violates the Eighth Amendment's prohibition 27 against cruel and unusual punishment, that such confinement solely based on alleged gang 28

1 affiliation violates the Eighth Amendment, and that the absence of meaningful review of SHU 2 placement violates prisoners' rights to Fourteenth Amendment due process. After engaging in 3 years of litigation—including a motion to dismiss, motion for class certification, and extensive 4 fact and expert discovery—followed by five months of tough, arm's-length settlement 5 negotiations, the parties have entered into a Settlement Agreement (the Settlement Agreement 6 or Agreement) to resolve all claims for relief brought in this case. The Agreement has been 7 approved by the named Plaintiffs after a full and fair opportunity to consider its terms and to 8 discuss those terms with their counsel. The Agreement, if approved by the Court, would 9 dispose of all claims for relief in the case.

10 By this motion, the parties now jointly seek approval of the Agreement, a copy of which 11 is attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Jules Lobel submitted in support of the motion. In 12 addition, the parties jointly seek an order conditionally certifying a Supplemental Class for 13 settlement purposes only, approving notice to class members of a fairness hearing, setting a 14 schedule for such fairness hearing for final approval of the Agreement, and staying this 15 litigation.

16 The Court should grant preliminary approval of the Agreement because it is the product 17 of arm's-length, serious, informed and non-collusive negotiations between experienced and 18 knowledgeable counsel who have actively prosecuted and defended this litigation.
19 Additionally, the parties have proposed a schedule that will allow an adequate opportunity for 20 notice, and for review and comment by all class members. The schedule also is consistent with 21 the parties' desire for prompt implementation of the Settlement Agreement.

22 II. BACKGROUND

23 Plaintiffs are Todd Ashker, George Franco, Gabriel Reyes, George Ruiz, Richard 24 Johnson, Danny Troxell, Paul Redd, Luis Esquivel, Ronnie Dewberry, and Jeffrey Franklin 25 (Plaintiffs). Defendants are the Governor of the State of California, the Secretary of CDCR, the 26 Warden at Pelican Bay, and the Chief of CDCR's Office of Correctional Safety, each of whom 27 is sued in his official capacity (Defendants).

1 This action was originally filed on December 9, 2009 as an individual pro se civil-rights 2 suit by Plaintiffs Todd Ashker and Danny Troxell. A First Amended Complaint was filed on 3 May 21, 2010. On September 10, 2012, Plaintiffs, having retained counsel, filed a Second 4 Amended Complaint, which added class allegations and eight additional Plaintiffs. The Second 5 Amended Complaint alleges that CDCR's gang management regulations violate the Due 6 Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment and that prolonged confinement in the conditions 7 of confinement in Pelican Bay's SHU constitute cruel and unusual punishment in violation of 8 the Eighth Amendment. The Second Amended Complaint seeks declaratory and injunctive 9 relief to address the alleged constitutional violations.

10 Defendants filed a motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint, which the Court 11 denied on April 9, 2013. (ECF No. 191.) On April 30, 2013, Defendants answered the Second 12 Amended Complaint. (ECF No. 194.) Shortly thereafter, Plaintiffs filed a motion for class 13 certification, which the Court granted in part and denied in part on June 2, 2014. (ECF No.
14 317.) The Court certified two classes of inmates under Rules 23(b)(1) and (b)(2) of the Federal 15 Rules of Civil Procedure: (i) all inmates assigned to an indeterminate term at Pelican Bay's 16 SHU on the basis of gang validation, under CDCR's policies and procedures, as of September 17 10, 2012; and (ii) all inmates who are now, or will be in the future, assigned to Pelican Bay's 18 SHU for ten or more continuous years. (See, e.g., ECF No. 317 at 11, 14, 21; ECF No. 387 at 19 13-17.)

20 On October 18, 2012, CDCR implemented its Security Threat Group program as a pilot 21 program which modified the criteria for placement into the SHU and initiated a Step Down 22 Program designed to afford validated inmates a way to transfer from the SHU to a general 23 population setting within three or four years. On October 17, 2014, and upon expiration of the 24 pilot, CDCR's Security Threat Group regulations were approved and adopted in title 15.

25 Plaintiffs filed a motion for leave to file a Supplemental Complaint, which the Court 26 granted on March 9, 2015. (ECF No. 387.) On March 11, 2015, Plaintiffs filed their 27 Supplemental Complaint. (ECF No. 388.) The Supplemental Complaint alleges an additional 28

1 Eighth Amendment claim on behalf of a putative class of inmates who have now, or will have 2 in the future, been housed by Defendants at Pelican Bay's SHU for longer than ten continuous 3 years and then transferred to another CDCR SHU facility under the Step Down Program.
4 Plaintiffs Dewberry, Franklin, Ruiz, and Troxell are alleged to be putative class representatives 5 concerning this supplemental Eighth Amendment claim. Plaintiffs transferred from Pelican 6 Bay's SHU also pursue injunctive relief on an individual basis. The Court stayed litigation on 7 the Supplemental Complaint until the Eighth Amendment claim alleged in Plaintiffs' Second 8 Amended Complaint is resolved. (ECF Nos. 387, 393.) As set forth in greater detail below, the 9 parties jointly request that the Court certify Plaintiffs' Supplemental Class for settlement 10 purposes.

11 From 2013 to 2015, the parties conducted extensive discovery, including more than 42 12 depositions of prison officials, prison leadership, prisoners, former prisoners and experts, and 13 the production of hundreds of thousands of pages of documents. (Decl. Lobel ¶ 3.) Discovery 14 was stayed by a round of settlement negotiations. (Id.) The parties served thirteen expert 15 reports and eleven rebuttal reports, and took twelve expert depositions. (Id.) Discovery is 16 closed. (Id.)

17 In the spring and summer of 2015, the parties engaged in extensive settlement 18 negotiations, supervised by Magistrate Judge Nandor J. Vadas. (Id. ¶ 5, Ex. 1.) The Settlement 19 Agreement, if approved, would settle all claims for relief asserted in Plaintiffs' Second 20 Amended Complaint and the Supplemental Complaint.¹ (Id.)

21
22
23
24 ¹ The Settlement Agreement also provides that Defendants agree to pay Plaintiffs' counsel 25 attorneys' fees and costs for work reasonably performed on this case, including monitoring and 26 enforcing CDCR's compliance with this Agreement, and for work to recover fees and costs, at the 27 hourly rate set forth under the Prison Litigation Reform Act, 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(d). The 28 Agreement states that Plaintiffs shall have sixty days from the entry of a final order approving this Agreement to file their motion for attorneys' fees and costs for work reasonably performed before that date. Plaintiffs will submit an informal fee demand to Defendants prior to filing the motion. If a settlement of the attorneys' fees and costs is reached, the parties will comply with Rule 23(h) requirements concerning notice to the class and Court approval.

1 III. SUMMARY OF KEY PROPOSED SETTLEMENT TERMS

2 A complete copy of the Agreement is attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Jules 3 Lobel, which is filed in support of this joint motion. The following are some of the key terms 4 of the parties' Agreement:

5 1. CDCR shall no longer place prisoners into any SHU, Administrative 6 Segregation, or the Step Down Program solely because of gang validation status. Instead, all 7 SHU or Step Down Program placements of validated CDCR prisoners shall be based solely on 8 a conviction of a SHU-eligible offense following a disciplinary due process hearing.

9 2. CDCR will no longer impose indeterminate SHU sentences, with a limited 10 exception called Administrative SHU, imposed after a prisoner has served a determinate SHU 11 term when the Departmental Review Board decides that overwhelming evidence shows that a 12 prisoner presents an immediate threat and cannot be assigned to less-restrictive housing. CDCR 13 will provide enhanced out-of-cell recreation and programming for these prisoners of 20 hours 14 per week, and its placement decision is subject to review by Magistrate Judge Nandor J. Vadas.
15 CDCR expects that a small number of prisoners will be retained in Administrative SHU.

16 3. CDCR will not house any inmate involuntarily in Pelican Bay's SHU for more 17 than five continuous years.

18 4. Within one year of preliminary approval, CDCR will review the cases of all 19 currently validated prisoners serving indeterminate SHU terms under the old validation 20 regulations, or who are currently assigned to Steps 1 through 4 of the Step Down Program, or 21 administratively retained in SHU. If an inmate has not been found guilty of a SHU-eligible rule 22 violation with a proven Security Threat Group (STG) nexus within the last 24 months, he shall 23 be released from the SHU and transferred to a General Population facility consistent with his 24 case factors. Those who have been incarcerated in a SHU for more than ten years will 25 generally be released from the SHU, even if they have committed a recent SHU-eligible offense 26 and allowed to serve the remainder of the SHU term and their Step Down Program time in the 27 new Restrictive Custody General Population unit.

28 5. The Step Down Program will be shortened from four to two years, and prisoners will be transferred from SHU after two years in the Step Down Program unless they commit a new SHU-eligible offense.

6. CDCR will create a new unit called the Restrictive Custody General Population unit (RCGP). The RCGP is a Level IV 180-design facility commensurate with similarly designed high security general population facilities. The RCGP will provide prisoners with increased opportunities for programming and social interaction such as contact visits, small group programming, and yard/out-of-cell time commensurate with Level IV general population in small group yards. Prisoners subject to transfer to the RCGP are those who: (i) refuse to complete required Step Down Program components; (ii) are found guilty of repeated STG violations while in the Step Down Program; (iii) face a substantial threat to their personal safety if released to the general population; or (iv) have been housed in a SHU for 10 or more

1 continuous years and have committed a SHU-eligible offense with a proven STG nexus within 2 the preceding 24 months.

3 7. CDCR will train staff about the Agreement's requirements, including training to 4 ensure that confidential information used against prisoners is accurate.

5 8. Plaintiffs' representatives and their counsel, with the assistance of Magistrate 6 Judge Vadas, will have an active, ongoing role in overseeing implementation and enforcement 7 of the Settlement Agreement, including the opportunity to raise before Magistrate Judge Vadas 8 alleged violations of the Agreement or the Constitution.

9 9. The Court will retain jurisdiction over this case for two years. Plaintiffs may 10 extend the Court's jurisdiction by showing that current and ongoing systemic violations of the 11 Eighth Amendment or the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment exist; otherwise, 12 the Court's jurisdiction and the parties' Agreement automatically ends.

13 10. Plaintiffs will file a motion for attorneys' fees following entry of a final order 14 approving the Agreement.

15 IV. PROPOSED NOTICE

16 The parties have agreed to a proposed notice to class members, which is attached as 17 Exhibit 2 to the Jules Lobel Declaration. The parties agree that this form of notice is adequate 18 to provide class members with notice of the proposed settlement and fairness hearing and 19 complies with the due process requirements of Rule 23 of the Federal Rules.

20 Within 30 days of the Court granting preliminary approval of the Settlement Agreement 21 and the notice to class members attached as Exhibit 2 to the Jules Lobel Declaration, 22 Defendants will post the notice in English and Spanish in each SHU housing pod or unit.
23 Moreover, copies of the order granting preliminary approval and the parties' Settlement 24 Agreement will be provided in each law library servicing a CDCR SHU facility. Defendants 25 will provide Plaintiffs' counsel with a certification to confirm that the notice and related 26 documents have been disseminated and posted, as agreed.

27 V. ANALYSIS

28 A. The Proposed Supplemental Settlement Class Should Be Certified.

Rule 23 of the Federal Rules permits a case to be maintained as a class action if:

(1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class, (3) the claims or defenses of the 1 representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class, and (4) the 2 representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.

3 Id. To demonstrate that class certification is proper, Plaintiffs must show that all four of these 4 threshold requirements, and one of the three provisions of Rule 23(b), are satisfied. Id.; see 5 also Eisen v. Carlisle & Jacquelin, 417 U.S. 156, 162-63 (1974); In Re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec.
6 Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 462 (9th Cir. 2000). Here, the proposed supplemental settlement class—of 7 inmates who have now, or will have in the future, been housed by Defendants at Pelican Bay’s 8 SHU for ten or more years continuous years and then were transferred to another CDCR SHU 9 facility in connection with CDCR’s Step Down Program—meets all requirements and should be 10 certified. This Supplemental Settlement Class, all of whom are also members of the original 11 Ashker certified classes, will benefit from the policy changes agreed to by the parties.

12 Numerosity. Joinder of all members of the proposed Supplemental Class is 13 impracticable. The latest data show that approximately 50 CDCR inmates have been housed by 14 Defendants at Pelican Bay’s SHU for longer than ten continuous years and then transferred to 15 another CDCR SHU facility. See Daffin v. Ford Motor Co., 458 F.3d 549, 552 (6th Cir. 2006)
16 (noting Rule 23(a)(1) requires only “substantial” numbers) (citations omitted). Relatively small 17 class sizes have been found to satisfy the numerosity requirement where joinder is still found 18 impracticable. See, e.g., McCluskey v. Trustees of Red Dot Corp. Employee Stock Ownership
19 Plan & Trust, 268 F.R.D. 670, 673 (W.D. Wash. 2010) (certifying class of twenty-seven known 20 plaintiffs); Villalpando v. Exel Direct Inc., 303 F.R.D. 588, 2014 WL 6625011, at *16 (N.D.
21 Cal. 2014) (noting that courts routinely find numerosity where class comprises 40 or more 22 members). Additionally, where, as here, “the class includes unnamed, unknown future 23 members, joinder of such unknown individuals is impracticable.” Nat’l Ass’n of Radiation 24 Survivors v. Walters, 111 F.R.D. 595, 599 (N.D. Cal. 1986) (emphasis added). Certification is 25 particularly appropriate where, as here, individual class members are alleged to have suffered 26 medical and mental health effects from being housed in the SHU. Amone v. Aveiro, 226 F.R.D.
27 677, 684 (D. Haw. 2005) (finding joinder impracticable where proposed class comprised of 28

1 “individuals whose financial circumstances may prevent them from pursuing individual 2 litigation [and] who are unlikely to know that a cause of action exists”); Tenants Associated for 3 a Better Spaulding v. U.S. Dep’t of Hous. and Urban Dev., 97 F.R.D. 726, 729 (N.D. Ill. 1983)
4 (“As the plaintiff class members are or were residents of federally-subsidized housing, there is a 5 very real possibility that few, if any, of the class members are in the financial position to 6 individually pursue this action.”); Matyasovszky v. Hous. Auth. of City of Bridgeport, 226 7 F.R.D. 35, 40 (D. Conn. 2005) (finding numerosity particularly given circumstances of class, 8 whose members were “low income, disabled, and in some cases, homeless individuals”); 9 Arenson v. Whitehall Convalescent and Nursing Home, Inc., 164 F.R.D. 659, 663 (N.D. Ill.
10 1996) (certifying class where individuals “who are residents of a nursing home may also lack 11 the ability to pursue their claims individually”).

12 Common Questions of Law or Fact. “All questions of fact and law need not be 13 common to satisfy the rule. The existence of shared legal issues with divergent factual 14 predicates is sufficient, as is a common core of salient facts coupled with disparate legal 15 remedies within the class.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998).
16 Here, the Supplemental Class shares common questions of law or fact, as the action challenges 17 system-wide policies or practices affecting inmates having been housed at Pelican Bay’s SHU 18 for ten or more continuous years, and all Supplemental Class members share the same claim 19 that the duration of their exposure to SHU conditions stands in violation of their rights under 20 the Eighth Amendment. L.H. v. Schwarzenegger, No. CIV S-06-2042 LKK/GGH, 2007 WL 21 662463, at *11 (commonality is satisfied where “plaintiffs’ grievances share a common 22 question of law or of fact”) (citing Armstrong v. Davis, 275 F.3d 849, 868 (9th Cir. 2001)).

23 Typicality. The Supplemental Class representatives have claims typical of the 24 Supplemental Settlement Class, as they are former Pelican Bay SHU inmates who are subject, 25 or who have been subject, to the challenged policies or procedures. The alleged harm suffered 26 by the Supplemental Class representatives is typical of all members of the Supplemental 27 Settlement Class. Thus, each supplemental class representative is part of the class and 28

1 possesses “the same interest and suffer[s] the same injury as the class members.” General Tel.
2 Co. of the S.W. v. Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 156 (1982) (quoting East Tex. Motor Freight Sys. v.
3 Rodriguez, 431 U.S. 395 (1977); see also Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d at 1020 (claims 4 are “typical” if “reasonably co-extensive” and “they need not be substantively identical”).

5 Adequacy. The named Plaintiffs for the Supplemental Settlement Class and their 6 counsel are adequate. The named Plaintiffs’ claims for injunctive relief are aligned with the 7 interests of other Supplemental Class members who are being or will be subjected to the same 8 policies and practices, and the named Plaintiffs have no interests antagonistic to the proposed 9 class. Walters v. Reno, 145 F.3d 1032, 1046 (9th Cir. 1998) (affirming finding of adequate 10 representation where named plaintiffs “interested and involved in obtaining relief” for entire 11 class); Access Now, Inc. v. Ambulatory Surgery Ctr. Group, Ltd., 197 F.R.D. 522, 528 (S.D.
12 Fla. 2000) (certification appropriate where named plaintiffs sought injunction against 13 accessibility barriers on behalf of similarly disabled persons); Hilton v. Wright, 235 F.R.D. 40, 14 52 (N.D.N.Y. 2006) (finding claims of named prisoner plaintiffs “consistent and 15 complementary to” those of proposed class, all of whom had been refused medical treatment 16 based on state prison policy). Courts rarely decline class certification in cases such as this one, 17 where no individual damages are sought. See, e.g., Access Now, Inc., 197 F.R.D. at 528 18 (“[B]ecause there are no individual monetary damages sought, the interests of the representative 19 Plaintiffs do not actually or potentially conflict with those of the Class.”). Class counsel will 20 fairly and adequately represent the interests of the Supplemental Class as they have done in the 21 remainder of the Ashker litigation. Undersigned counsel for the named Plaintiffs and the 22 Supplemental Settlement Class also meet the requirements of Rule 23(g), and therefore should 23 be appointed as Supplemental Settlement Class counsel.

24 Rule 23(b)(2). Finally, the proposed Supplemental Settlement Class meets the 25 requirements of Rule 23(b)(2) because the issues resolved via the parties’ settlement “apply 26 generally to the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2). As a matter seeking injunctive relief 27 concerning only system-wide policies or practices, this matter is well-suited for certification 28

1 under Rule 23(b)(2). Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 614 (1997) (“Civil rights 2 cases against parties charged with unlawful, class-based discrimination are prime examples” of 3 Rule 23(b)(2) cases); Taylor v. Hous. Auth. of New Haven, 257 F.R.D. 23, 32 (D. Conn. 2009) 4 (“Where, as here, plaintiffs allege discriminatory and unlawful systemic or policy level actions, 5 certification under Rule 23(b)(2) is proper.”). Indeed, subdivision (b)(2) was added to Rule 23
 6 in 1966 “primarily to facilitate the bringing of class actions in the civil rights area.” Wright, 7 Miller & Kane, Federal Practice and Procedure, Civil 2d Ed., § 1775, p. 470 (1986).

8 B. The Court Should Preliminarily Approve the Settlement Agreement.

9 As a procedural safeguard to protect “unnamed class members from unjust or unfair 10 settlement,” before a settlement becomes binding on the parties, the trial judge must approve 11 the settlement only after finding that the settlement is “fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Fed. R.
 12 Civ. P. 23(e); San Francisco NAACP v. Brian Ho, 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 25904 (N.D. Cal.
 13 Oct. 24, 2001); see also Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011 (9th Cir. 1998). The Ninth 14 Circuit maintains a “strong judicial policy” that favors the settlement of class actions. Class 15 Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th Cir 1992). Court approval of a class 16 action settlement involves two phases: (1) preliminary approval and notice to the class; and (2) 17 a fairness hearing and final approval of the settlement agreement. Manual for Complex 18 Litigation, (Fourth) § 21.632 (2004).

19 At the preliminary approval phase a “full fairness analysis is unnecessary[.]” Zepeda v.
 20 Paypal, Inc., 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24388, *1,*16 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 24, 2014) (citations 21 omitted). The purpose the preliminary approval process is to determine whether the proposed 22 settlement is within the range of reasonableness and thus whether notice to the class of the 23 terms and conditions and the scheduling of a formal fairness hearing is worthwhile. Alba Conte 24 & Herbert B. Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions § 11:25 (4th Ed. 2002). Preliminary 25 approval may be granted where the proposed settlement “appears to be the product of serious, 26 informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies [and] does not grant 27
 28

1 preferential treatment to class representative or segments of the class[.]” In re Tableware, 484 2 F.Supp.2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007) (citations omitted).

3 There is an “initial presumption of fairness when a proposed class settlement was 4 negotiated at arm’s length by counsel for the class.” Murillo v. Texas A&M Univ. Sys., 921 F.
5 Supp. 443, 445 (S.D. Tex. 1996). Other factors courts consider in assessing a settlement 6 proposal include: (1) the strength of the plaintiff’s case; (2) the risk, expense, complexity, and 7 likely duration of further litigation; (3) the risk of maintaining class-action status throughout the 8 trial; (4) the amount offered in settlement; (5) the extent of discovery completed and the stage 9 of the proceedings; (6) the experience and views of counsel; (7) the presence of a government 10 participant; and (8) the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement. Hanlon, 150 11 F.3d at 1026; see also In re Oracle Sec. Litig., 829 F. Supp. 1176, 1179 (N.D. Cal.1993). The 12 district court must explore these factors comprehensively to satisfy appellate review, but “the 13 decision to approve or reject a settlement is committed to the sound discretion of the trial 14 judge.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026.

15 Furthermore, courts must give “proper deference to the private consensual decision of 16 the parties.” Id. at 1027. Settlement is the preferred means of dispute resolution, particularly in 17 complex class litigation. Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir.
18 1982) (class action suit challenging allegedly discriminatory employment practices by a police 19 department). “[T]he court’s intrusion upon what is otherwise a private consensual agreement 20 negotiated between the parties to a lawsuit must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a 21 reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or 22 collusion between, the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, 23 reasonable and adequate to all concerned.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1027. Thus a district court’s 24 decision to approve a class action settlement may be reversed “only upon a strong showing that 25 the district court’s decision was a clear abuse of discretion.” Id.

26 Here, a preliminary review of the relevant considerations demonstrates a firm basis for 27 granting preliminary approval of the parties’ Settlement Agreement. The Agreement is fair and 28

1 adequate in that Defendants have agreed to settlement terms that directly address the class 2 claims in this case, including, but not limited to, no longer placing prisoners into the SHU for 3 indeterminate terms solely on the basis of their validation as gang members and associates.
4 Defendants have further agreed to review the cases of all validated prisoners who are currently 5 in the SHU as a result of either an indeterminate term that was previously assessed under prior 6 validation regulations, who are currently assigned to Steps 1 through 4, or who were assigned to 7 Step 5 but are retained in a SHU. (Decl. Lobel, Ex. 1.) The Agreement was reached after 8 months of extensive arm's-length negotiations between the parties. Plaintiffs' representatives 9 played an active role in determining the terms of the Agreement through regular meetings and 10 individual and conference calls with Plaintiffs' counsel, and by giving their consent to the final 11 terms of the Agreement. Plaintiffs have been zealously represented by their experienced 12 counsel throughout this litigation. (Id. ¶ 7.)

13 The Settlement Agreement also was reached after extensive fact discovery was 14 completed, including numerous depositions, large productions of documents, and full expert 15 discovery. (Id. ¶ 3.) Thus, the parties had adequate time to fully evaluate one another's claims 16 and defenses before engaging in settlement negotiations and reaching an agreement.

17 Further, the outcome of the litigation and the extent of any relief that the classes might 18 be awarded if the case were to proceed to trial is uncertain. Proceeding through pre-trial 19 motions, trial, and probable appeal would impose risks, costs, and a substantial delay in the 20 implementation of any remedy in this matter. Given the relief achieved and the risks and costs 21 involved in further litigation, the negotiated settlement represents a fundamentally "fair, 22 reasonable and adequate" resolution of the disputed issues and should be preliminarily 23 approved. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2).

24 C. The Proposed Notice is Adequate.

25 Rule 23(e) requires that notice of the proposed settlement be disseminated to the class 26 before the Court grants final approval. As described above, the Court previously certified two 27 classes based on the allegations of Plaintiffs' Second Amended Complaint and the parties here 28

1 jointly request that the Court certify a Supplemental Class for settlement purposes only under 2 Federal Rules 23(a) and (b)(2), in connection with the additional claim asserted in Plaintiffs' 3 Supplemental Complaint. The parties have agreed to the form and content of the notice to the 4 classes, which is attached to the Jules Lobel Declaration as Exhibit 2, and which the parties 5 agree provides reasonable notice of the terms of the Settlement. In addition to the notice, 6 Plaintiffs' counsel also intend to provide a full copy of the Settlement Agreement to all class 7 and supplemental class members. The means of disseminating the notice will allow an adequate 8 opportunity for class members to review and comment on the Settlement Agreement. The 9 parties respectfully request that the Court approve the notice and order its dissemination to the 10 class members.

11 D. The Court Should Approve the Proposed Scheduling Order and Set a Date for 12 the Fairness Hearing.

13 The parties propose the following general time schedule to provide for notice, comment, 14 and final approval of the Settlement Agreement. The parties also submit a proposed scheduling 15 order attached to the Jules Lobel Declaration as Exhibit 3.

16 First, the parties request thirty days from the date of preliminary approval to disseminate 17 notice to all class members. Second, the parties request a six-week period, following the 18 dissemination of the notice, during which class members may file comments and objections.
19 Third, the parties request three weeks from the end of the comment period for the parties to 20 respond to any objections. Fourth, the parties request that the fairness hearing be set 21 approximately two weeks after the deadline for responding to the objections. The entire 22 schedule totals fifteen weeks from preliminary approval to the final approval hearing.

23 VI. CONCLUSION

24 For the reasons discussed above, Plaintiffs and Defendants request that the Court grant 25 preliminary approval of the parties' Settlement Agreement, conditionally certify the proposed 26 Supplemental Settlement Class, approve the form of the proposed notice and order its posting, 27 issue the proposed scheduling order, and stay all other proceedings in this case pending a final 28

1 ruling on the fairness of the Settlement. The parties further request final approval of the 2 Settlement Agreement at the time of the fairness hearing.
